OUR CREDENTIALS

PROTAN has been supplying specific products and services to the offsite construction market in Mainland Europe and the UK since 1996.

Established in 1939 we are one of Europe's leading producers of single ply roofing membranes and technical textiles. What makes us different from other material manufacturers is our expertise in prefabrication.

We operate 5 plants across Europe producing a vast range of prefabricated PVC products. Our automated processes provide optimum quality control and economics of scale.

The benefits of a PROTAN membrane system include:

- Quick and easy installation
- Cost effective
- Environmentally sustainable
- Tough and durable
- Design versatility

PROFAB MARKETS

VOLUMETRIC MODULAR BUILDINGS

For the roofing market we developed a unique secret fix attachment system, this enables us to produce prefabricated membrane sections to fit any roof or balcony panel sizes and configurations.

Mechanical attachment methods prevent the need for glues and other bonding substances and prefabricated trim and design details give our systems continuity throughout.

PROFAB also has the ability to carry out complete on site roof refurbishment, with no need to remove the existing roofing system.

PREFABRICATED PANELS AND ASSEMBLIES

PROFAB produces prefabricated membrane sections for use on timber, steel and concrete panels. We have been a leading supplier in this sector in Scandinavia for over 20 years.

As with our product offering to the volumetric market our mechanical attachment methods prevent the need for glues and other bonding substances and prefabricated trim and design details give our systems continuity through out.

BATHROOM POD MANUFACTURERS

For use in bathroom pods we have developed our prefabricated under tile membrane system.

Inserts are made to your exact requirements, including all pipe and up stand detail. The prefabricated membrane is then simply inserted into the unit and tiled over to create a high integrity water barrier.

We also supply temporary waterproofing for completed units whilst in transit or storage.
